

Academic Achievement Programs

TRIO: Student Support Services
TRIO: Educational Opportunity Center
Passport to Careers Program
Freedman-Remak Student-Athlete Academic Success Center

Overview

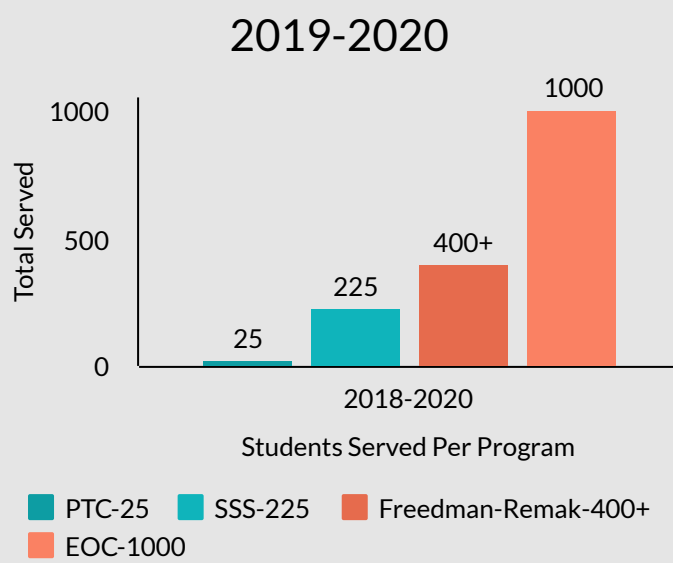

The Academic Achievement Programs (AAP) include the TRIO Student Support Services (SSS) program, TRIO Educational Opportunity Center (EOC), the Passport to College (PTC) Program, and the Freedman-Remak Success Center for Athletes.

The AAP team and programs provide comprehensive, wraparound support to ensure student participants are successful in obtaining a bachelor's degree and segue into a meaningful career or graduate school.

Summary Report

Number of Students Served

Who We Support

Academic Achievement Programs (AAP) is a unit comprised of four student support programs at Central Washington University. Each of these programs are intentionally designed to increase a student's overall academic success by providing individual, tailored support to participants.

01

Low-Income

02

First-Generation

03

Students with Disabilities

04

Adult Learners

05

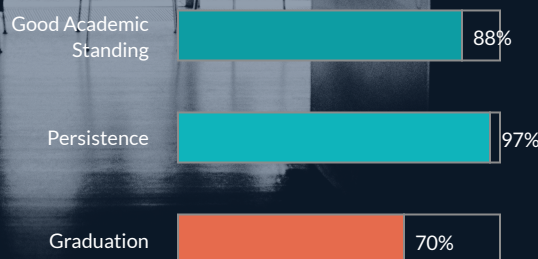

Unaccompanied Homeless & Foster Youth

★ What is TRIO?

- Serves 800,000+ students in all 50 states and U.S. territories.
- At least 2/3 of all TRIO students are both low-income and first-generation students.
- TRIO also serves students with disabilities, veterans, homeless, and foster youth.

✔ Student Support Services

2019-2020 Outcomes

Diversity

AAP programs create and maintain educational and work environments that are welcoming, accessible, inclusive, equitable, and free from bias or harassment.

