

Biology, Bachelor of Arts (BA)

Program description and career options:

- Program description: Biology is the scientific study of organisms and their life processes. It is a broad field that includes organismal structure and function, evolution, and interactions and distribution of organisms in all levels of life, and has applications in areas ranging from medicine to climate change. All students will learn core concepts of ecology and evolution, molecular and cellular biology, plant and organismal biology, and genetics.
- Likely Career Paths: Science teacher, laboratory research scientist, field biologist/ecologist, conservationist/environmental resource manager, medical professional (doctor, dentist, physician assistant, physical therapist, veterinarian, pharmacist, etc.), animal scientist, botanist/plant scientist, medical laboratory scientist, microbiologist, bioinformatics analyst.

Key considerations:

- Cost: University-wide costs (cwu.edu/financial-aid/cost-attendance). Course fees for laboratory and field courses range from $25 - $100 per course; total program cost varies depending on specialization.
- Location: Ellensburg
- Primary contact: biology@cwu.edu | 509-963-2731 | cwu.edu/biology/biology-majors-minor

- The Transfer Equivalency Site \(TES\) provides CWU equivalencies for courses at other colleges and universities.

Advising Notes:

- We recommend students pursue and earn an AA-DTA.
- Any Washington state DTA (Direct Transfer Agreement) degree will satisfy all general education requirements.
- Students transferring with an AS-T (Associate in Science-Transfer) will need to take additional coursework to fulfill CWU general education requirements.
- Major requirements may change over time; students will be expected to meet the catalog requirements in place at the time they are admitted to the major. Current catalog: <https://catalog.acalog.cwu.edu/>
