International Admissions Supplemental Form for Dependents

Dependents are defined as a student's spouse or children. A dependent does not include members of the extended family or parents.

If you have a dependent whom you wish to bring with you to the United States you must submit the following information with your Confidential Financial Statement and application to Central Washington University.

1. The full legal name of the dependent(s).
2. Their date(s) of birth.
3. Their gender.
4. Their relationship to the student.
5. Proof of ability to pay for the dependent. For children 0-2 years of age there is no additional cost. For children 3+ and adults you need to add an additional $5,000 to the total academic year costs. The bank statement must prove ability to pay for these additional costs.
6. Copies of both the student's passport and the dependent's passport.

Yes, I have a dependent(s) that I plan to bring with me to Central Washington University. I understand that I must submit all required documents and be admitted to Central Washington University before a dependent I-20 can be issued.

*note: All dependents will be required to apply for F2 visas. F2 visa holders are not allowed to attend school unless they are children attending K-12. When a child turns 21 they no longer qualify for a F2 visa and must apply for a change of status or return to their home country. In addition, F2 visa holders are not allowed to work while in the United States.*
