Course Description

This class serves as a means to distill the recurring themes and issues presented throughout the graduate program. It creates a product that will contribute to the solution of real-world problems and concerns in the area of Information Technology.

Prerequisites: ADMG 501, ADMG 525

Learner Outcomes

Demonstrate an understanding of the knowledge and skills acquired in their courses to a specific problem or issue

Incorporate their academic experience into areas of personal interest, working with new ideas, issues, organizations, and individuals

Refine their research skills and demonstrate their proficiency in written and/or oral communication skills

Will create a final capstone written project in preparation for the thesis, project or practicum.
Will demonstrate their achievement of the ITAM program of study outcomes and their ability to extend and refine this knowledge and skill in the realization of their personal and professional goals.

Specific course faculty and materials vary by quarter. Current information can be found on the CWU SAFARI System. ITAM classes are often offered in online, hybrid, or traditional format. Visit the CWU SAFARI system for complete details.

University Policy on Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity is a standard set for this course. Students are expected to complete all of their coursework and assignments using their original words and ideas and will properly cite the words and ideas of others. Students are also expected to be honest in their interactions with the instructor. A student found to have not upheld these expectations is subject to failing this course and shall be subject to disciplinary action or sanction. The University catalog defines the term “academic dishonesty” in all its forms including, but not limited to:

- cheating on tests;
- copying from another student’s test paper;
- using materials during a test not authorized by the person giving the test;
- collaboration with any other person during a test without authority;
- knowingly obtaining, using, buying, selling, transporting, or soliciting in whole or in part the contents of an un-administered test or information about an un-administered test;
- bribing any other person to obtain an un-administered test or information about an un-administered test; substitution for another student or permitting any other person to substitute for oneself to take a test; plagiarism” which shall mean the appropriation of any other person’s work and the unacknowledged incorporation of that work in one’s own work offered for credit;
- “collusion” which shall mean the unauthorized collaboration with any other person in preparing work offered for credit.

University Policy on Special Needs

If you have a disability that may prevent you from meeting course requirements, contact the instructor immediately to file a Student Disability Statement and to develop an Accommodation Plan. Course requirements will not be waived but reasonable accommodations will be developed to help you meet the requirements. You are expected to work with the instructor and the CWU Disability Support Specialist to develop and implement a reasonable Accommodation Plan.
