

HISTORY

Careers possible with a Ph.D. in History:

- College and University Teaching
- Museum Curation, Conservation and Outreach
- Editing and Publishing
- Archival Work
- Various positions with Federal and State Agencies
- Consulting and Contracting

For more information, visit

www.historians.org/pubs/careers/index.htm

What Does Central Have to Offer?

- The McNair Scholars Program that pairs students in one-on-one faculty research mentorships and provides guidance through the graduate school application process, including GRE preparation!
- Internship and research opportunities that will help build your graduate school resume
- A History Honors program that invites members to present research at an annual conference
- Study Abroad Opportunities
- Opportunities to present research at CWU's annual SOURCE event

Helpful Links:

CIRGE's "After the Degree: Recent History PhDs Weigh In On Careers and Graduate School":

<http://tinyurl.com/cirgehistory>

Phi Alpha Theta

(History Honors Society)

<http://www.phialphatheta.org/>

American Historical Association

<http://www.historians.org/>

Featured Ph.D. Holders:

Robin Kelley

M.A. - African History

Ph.D. - U.S. History—UCLA

Dr. Kelley is professor of American Studies and Ethnicity and History at the University of Southern California. He has written several renowned books on African-American history, and has been repeatedly recognized for his outstanding teaching skills.

Janet A McDonnell

Ph.D. - History

Marquette University

Dr. McDonnell is a historian for the National Park Service (NPS). She has helped keep history alive by documenting cultural and historical memory through her research and presentations on the oral history of the NPS.

From Making a Difference: A Selection of Graduate Degree Holders and Their Contributions to the Public Good. Council of Graduate Schools, 2008.*