

Acceptable Out-of-State Associate Degrees

Central Washington University accepts academic associate degrees from colleges accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU). The following associate degrees will satisfy Central's general education requirements; however, this does not guarantee junior status or 90 quarter credits. The associate degree must be earned before a student has completed 45 credits, or one calendar year, after initial enrollment at Central. Completion of a transfer degree does not guarantee acceptance into a specific major at CWU. This agreement began Fall quarter 2000.
