WAC:

- Many women came together and had a great time. This was a truly great celebration and community building event.
- Advertising and invitations-Central Today, Email staff/faculty and ask Kim Dawson to send the emails on behalf of the President's
- Comments: Michelle-good comments from those who attended, and many expressed their honor of being invited. Many forms of communication regarding the event: email & poster, event was located off campus with various food by select downtown vendors, no host bar and spoken word poet.
- New direction for this event to be inclusive, to utilize downtown merchants, personal invites of individuals with hand delivered invitations.
- Complaint-The video to celebrate "Women" focus was too narrow; focused on one person
- The closing of the program did celebrate the 16 years of honored women.

Concerns/Comments:

- Inclusivity of recruitment and retention of faculty and staff of color. Staci is working on this with HR. Kandee will be speaking to diversity retention.
- For marginalized groups that we cannot identify by law that we still need to recruit, how do we do that? An application question to self-identify for gender? This would be acceptable since one for race currently exist?
- Raymond-Curriculum committee syllabus – ADA is there anything the app to self-identify special needs? OEO and ADA information is part of all
- Wendy to talk about ADA in Fall – Ashlie Norris Des Moines works with ADA
