

Course Prefix and Number		Soc 348 - Women and Crime
Learner Outcomes		Assessment
Student will identify theoretical basis for gender differences in criminal behavior.		Student will identify theoretical basis for gender differences in criminal behavior through exams.
Student will compare and contrast empirical evidence identifying the differences between male and female criminal behavior.		Students will compare and contrast empirical evidence identifying between male and female criminal behavior through exams and papers.
Students will demonstrate understanding of the history of violence against women.		Students will demonstrate understanding of the history of violence against through exams.
Students will demonstrate the differences between the experience of men and women in the criminal justice system.		Students will demonstrate the differences between the experience of men and women in the criminal justice system through a final paper.	