

Course Prefix & Number SOC 320 – Death and Dying

LEARNER OUTCOMES	ASSESSMENT
Students will demonstrate knowledge of language used to examine the sociology of dying, death, and bereavement.	Students will take an exam in which they use the knowledge of the language used to examine the sociology of dying, death, and bereavement.
Students will critically analyze personal experiences with death, dying, and bereavement.	Students will write a paper in which they use the knowledge of the language used to examine the sociology of dying, death, and bereavement.
Students will identify the sociological theories that address the issues of death, dying, and bereavement.	Students will take an exam in which they identify the various sociological theories that address the issues of death, dying, and bereavement.