

Course Prefix & Number SOC 343 – Child Abuse

LEARNER OUTCOMES	ASSESSMENT
Identify important historic developments in the definition and treatment of child abuse in the United States.	Students will take objective and essay tests in class where they will recognize and discuss historic developments in the definition and treatment of child abuse in the United States.
Recognize symptoms of various kinds of child abuse.	Students will take objective and essay tests in class where they will recognize and discuss symptoms of child abuse; they will participate in class discussions of cases of abuse.
Demonstrate knowledge of social factors facilitating or hindering the reporting of child abuse.	Students will take objective and essay tests in class where they will recognize and discuss social factors facilitating or hindering the reporting of child abuse.
Demonstrate knowledge of the legal and social service framework for reporting and intervention in cases of child abuse.	Students will take essay and objective tests in class where they will identify and discuss the legal and social service framework for reporting and intervention in cases of child abuse.