

INFORMED & ENGAGED TEACHING: GENDER, SEXUALITY & EQUITY

A series of faculty- and staff-led online workshops about specific topics relevant to gender and sexuality in our teaching and professional lives, with a focus on practical and interactive faculty development

Four workshops during Spring 2021:

- Inclusive Conversations
Thursday, April 22nd, 1:30-3 p.m.
- How to Handle Student Disclosures
Wednesday, April 28th, 3-4 p.m.
- Improving Department Climate
Friday, May 7th, 3-4 p.m.
- Practical Pedagogy
Wednesday, May 19th, 4-5 p.m.

Faculty and staff will earn an Informed and Engaged Teaching certificate for participating in at least three workshops. A stipend or professional development funds are available to faculty who earn the certificate. This series has received generous support from the Office of the Provost, International Studies and Programs, and CWU Libraries, as well as sponsorship by the Vice President of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusivity; the Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program; the LGBTQ+ workgroup; and Multimodal Learning.

For more information, contact Cynthia Coe, Michel O'Brien, or Judy Hennessy.