

CENTRAL WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Theatre Arts

General Departmental Information

The Theatre Arts major offers students classroom instruction and practical production opportunities in a lively and disciplined setting. Upon completion of the major, students are prepared to pursue theatre as a career, to teach theatre at the secondary level, or to continue studies in a graduate program. Students without primary interest in theatre arts are also encouraged to participate in the program. Many of the classes serve students majoring in other disciplines.

Theatre Arts offers minors in six specializations: Teaching Theatre K-12, Theatre Generalist, Performance, Design and Technology, Youth Drama and Theatre Management.

Admission to any theatre arts course which has prerequisites requires either a suitable placement test score or a grade of C- or better in each listed prerequisite to that course. Students must check course catalog for all prerequisites.

Majors and Minors

Bachelor of Arts Major with Specializations:

Theatre Generalist, Performance, Design and Technology, Youth Drama, and Theatre Management.

Theatre Arts: Teaching K-12:

This major satisfies the Primary endorsement for Drama. A student should have a minor leading to endorsement in English, language arts, or music. Also, see University requirements for teacher certification. Students taking this major are required to complete the professional education program requirements offered through the Curriculum and Supervision Department.

Theatre Arts Minor with Specializations:

Teaching Grades K-12, Theatre Generalist, Performance, Design and Technology, Youth Drama, and Theatre Management.

For Further Information, Contact:

George W. Bellah, III, MFA

(Department Chair & Associate Professor)

bellahg@cwu.edu

(509) 963-3410

McConnell Hall, Room #106

<http://www.cwu.edu/~acctng>

Admissions and Transfer Requirements:

<http://www.cwu.edu/~cwuadmis/>

CWU Office of Admissions

(866) CWU-4YOU (298-4968)

Revised 04/30/04 by Office of Admissions