

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Brian Belcher and I am the Accommodations Coordinator with the Office of Disability Services at Princeton University. Over the past several semesters our office has engaged with Central Access to help us meet our accessible format needs. We have several students who have needed alternate formats such as braille, tactile graphs/charts, accessible Word documents, and accessible PDFs and Central Access has helped us meet those needs of our students.

Central Access is always very transparent about their deadlines and the time they will need to make sure a job can be completed and done correctly.

We have a few students that need a complete overhaul of their course materials into braille and tactile graphics. This is something we exclusively work with Central Access for. We work on getting these materials to Central Access in as much advance as possible but there have been times where last minutes changes to course materials has left us high and dry with only 1-2 weeks left until class begins. Central Access has stepped up time and time again by helping us get these materials to our students as quickly as possible, even in the face of extreme deadlines.

Central Access has always been professional and responsive to our needs. We have developed a working relationship with Central Access that our office always look forward to continuing for more semesters to come.
