

Manastash Year End Report Narrative AY 10-11

Central Washington University's student-run literary magazine, Manastash, showcases creative work from the entire university student community. The magazine is published annually at the end of Spring Quarter.

In AY 10-11 we spent $2673.87 producing 500 copies of Manastash. This printing was done at the Copy Shop on campus. We spent $42.12 on photocopying the submission packets for the editors.. We hosted a Manastash publication reading/reception on June 1st, 2011. The total cost of light refreshments for that event was $172.40.

We appreciate the support that SA has given us in the past. Manastash continues to be a source of pride for the student body, the alumni, and the whole community. The President and the Dean of CAH both use Manastash to recruit prospective students because it is such an effective and impressive showcase of our talented students.
