4. Click the blue quote bubble in menu bar located on the right-side of the screen. Clicking on the blue comments on the document will give you more information. You can also download the annotated PDF.

The screenshot shows the Turnitin Feedback Studio interface. At the top, it says 'Official Test Student' and 'Breckon Assignment 1'. The document text is visible, with a blue box highlighting the phrase 'Commonly Confused' and another blue box highlighting the word 'Awk.'. A red arrow points to the 'Commonly Confused' box with a callout that says 'Instructor feedback is in blue. Click on blue box to get more information'. Another red arrow points to the 'Awk.' box with a callout that says '4. Click the blue quote bubble to show instructor feedback'. On the right side, there is a vertical toolbar with various icons. A red arrow points to the 'Download annotated PDF' icon (a document with a download arrow) with a callout that says 'Download annotated PDF'.

Good behavior is a subject that troubles Anne. Choose two main characters from the novel and discuss the different ways each character approaches the problem of being good.

Upon her arrival at Green Gables, Anne immediately comes into conflict with the people of Avonlea, especially Marilla, because of their different conceptions of what it means to be good. Marilla follows a strict definition of good behavior based on traditional roles and propriety, and she uses behavior to judge a person's underlying moral character. To Marilla, Anne's ignorance of the proper way to pray suggests that Anne is not only badly brought up but possibly wicked. When Anne decorates her hat with wildflowers on the way to church, she unwittingly draws stares and laughter from established churchgoers. Marilla feels that such Anne's actions reflect badly on her. Although Marilla understands and sympathizes with Anne's lack of formal education, she believes that standard

When Anne decorates her hat with wildflowers on the way to church, she unwittingly draws stares and laughter from established churchgoers. Marilla feels that such Anne's actions reflect badly on her. Although Marilla understands and sympathizes with Anne's lack of formal education, she believes that standard rules of behavior should govern a young girl's actions.

Anne is perplexed by the new moral codes she encounters while living with Marilla. She includes several personal wishes in her first prayer, asking that God make her pretty and change her red hair, which suggests that Anne thinks of prayer as an opportunity to express her fondest desires. Similarly, she does not
