

What is the GSA?

The Graduate Student Association (GSA) is a community that works to foster an inclusive, cohesive, and supportive learning environment for all current graduate students at Central Washington University.

The GSA believes that constant support is needed in order to thrive in graduate programs and serves to be a line of support for graduate students at CWU.

How can the GSA help?

The GSA helps connect graduate students with faculty and resources to prepare and support them for their future.

The GSA meets regularly as well as they host several professional development events and opportunities throughout the year. Some of these events include:

- Grant writing workshops
- Thesis 101
- Conference basics
- Ph.D. panels

GSA Kickoff Meeting, 2023

GSA Halloween Party, 2023

Why join the GSA?

Whether you are looking for opportunities to develop professionally or just for a community, the GSA has a spot for you!

- Networking opportunities:
  - Graduate faculty, staff, and other students
- Leadership
- Professional development
- Collaborative workspaces for research and creative expression

GSA & SOURCE

The GSA is a powerful SOURCE supporter. They host a SOURCE panel at which they discuss their journeys and experiences in graduate school and the GSA.
