Re: Call for DHC course proposals

The William O. Douglas Honors College is soliciting proposals for new honors courses to be taught during the 2018-19 academic year. This call for course proposals is open to all CWU faculty — tenured, tenure-track, and non-tenure track.

Teaching in the DHC provides a great opportunity for you to hold seminar-style classes with some of the brightest students on campus, and to explore interdisciplinary interests that may not have a place in regular departmental offerings. Creating an honors course also demonstrates a commitment to curricular development and innovative pedagogy.

This year, in an effort to support the drafting and successful submission of proposals, the DHC is offering two workshops, led by current DHC faculty and Advisory Committee members. Workshops will be held on Thursday, February 15 from 3:30-5pm and on Friday, February 16 from 2-3:30. Both workshops meet in Science II room 301. Please RSVP to the workshop by emailing Nicole Ciraulo. Please indicate which date you will be in attendance.

The deadline for the submission of proposals is Friday, February 23 at 5 P.M.

Please visit our website for proposal submission instructions

If you submitted a proposal previously and would like it to be reconsidered for 2018-2019, please submit a new, revised version of the proposal. For examples of courses currently being taught in the DHC, go to <http://www.cwu.edu/douglas-honors/courses-seminar-topics>.

If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Cubilié directly: cubiliea@cwu.edu. Thank you for your support of the DHC.
