Preparing School
Administrators to Lead
for Over 40 Years

Education Administration

The Department of Curriculum, Supervision, Educational Leadership prepares educational leaders to assume management and instructional responsibilities needed to facilitate learning in a diverse world.

Our school administration program provides candidates with a broad background in theory and practice, including: a series of prerequisite courses in theory and knowledge; a field-based administrator internship experience; and, supplemental educational opportunities.

This combination of professional preparation and experience has been designed to provide Principal and Program Administrator candidates the opportunity to demonstrate knowledge and skills through their CWU coursework and internship experience.

Focusing on the nature, theory, principles, and practices of administration in the educational setting, the program has been designed for experienced teachers, department chairs, consultants, supervisors, curriculum leaders, and subject-area specialists who have indicated an interest in considering educational administration as a career.

Graduate Programs

These programs prepare teachers for the residency principal or program administrator certificates.

Successful candidates must have: a bachelors degree; minimum of one year teaching experience; minimum GPA of 3.0; three references; and a statement of objectives.
