

Teachers Teaching Teachers

Central Washington Writing Project

College, Career, and Community Writers Program (C3WP) Summer Institute 2019

Central Washington University, Ellensburg Campus
July 29 – August 1, 2019

9:00 AM – 3:00 PM - Michaelson Building, Room 104

The C3WP Summer Institute:

- Provides research-proven scaffolded teaching and formative assessment resources that support the development of students' argumentative writing.
- Prepares youth for college, career, and community engagement.

Who should participate?

- All 4th-10th grade teachers looking for dynamic and effective strategies for teaching opinion and argumentative writing
- Content area teachers who want to learn more about using writing to increase learning in all subjects
- Teachers who want to network with colleagues across the state and nation
- Teachers who want to build professional learning communities in their buildings and districts

Successful participants will be able to:

- Implement C3WP scaffolded writing instruction to meet the academic needs of ALL students, including English Learners, struggling readers and writers, and proficient writers.
- Implement the research-validated C3WP in their classrooms to improve student achievement in source-based argument and opinion writing.
- Integrate C3WP resources and formative assessments in upper elementary and secondary curricula.
- Utilize C3WP mini-units and instructional approaches to improve students' critical reading skills.
- Utilize formative assessments to analyze students' argument and opinion writing to plan next instructional steps focused on teaching specific argument skills.

"As a first year teacher I found C3WP's mini-units and assessments to be user friendly, comprehensive, and time-saving. C3WP provided high interest articles that made my students truly want to read and write."
- Swan Eaton, 6th Grade Teacher, Livingston Elementary, Pasco

"The National Writing Project has provided some of the strongest tools I use to teach writing and thinking in my classroom. Thanks to CWWP, my students are better writers and I am a stronger teacher."
- Jon McClintick, English Teacher, Ellensburg High School, Ellensburg

$299
per person
Clock Hours and Lunch included in fee.

Registration: scan the QR code or go to <http://bit.ly/CWWP2019>

