Creating New Field Experience Tutorial

When you begin a field experience, you will be required to log the hours on the field experience website. Follow these steps to ensure correct logging of your experience.

1. At the beginning of the quarter when you are beginning a new field experience, additional information beyond just the hours is needed. Click on Create New Field Experience. This is the only time for this field experience that you will need to click on this link and enter this information.
2. You will see the user login screen. Enter your CWU login Username and password.
