Circulation Policy for Multimodal Education Center (MEC)

Eligibility
As a CWU student, faculty member or staff person, you are eligible to checkout MEC materials, if:
- you maintain an ‘active’ status through the CWU Registrar office or payroll office,
- you provide your CWU Connection Card
- you follow relevant university policies for laptop usage and copyright infringement
- you do not owe excessive fines or fees to the MEC for overdue or damaged materials, and

Replacement costs damaged or missing items are determined by MEC personnel based on the item’s current price. If you find an item after paying the fines, a refund will be issued for replacement cost if you return the item in good condition before we have purchased any replacement materials. If we have assessed fees incorrectly, we may refund them. Ask a MEC employee about the once-only appeal request for late fines.

Due dates
The due dates are listed on the screen when you use the self-checkout and are listed on the email receipt when you checkout equipment. The MEC will send you email reminders for overdue items (be sure to check your @cwu.edu account). Failure to review or receive notices does not exempt you from any of the fines or fees, which must be paid at the Cashier’s Office at Barge Hall. Student records may be held until the charges are cleared.

Restrictions, Renewals, Recalls, and Reserves
Patrons are restricted to no more than 25 items at a time. Equipment cannot be renewed. On the due date, the equipment must be physically returned. You may check it back out unless another patron has requested a reserve.
All MEC items must be returned by the end of the current academic quarter, unless special arrangements have been made with MEC staff.

All items are subject to immediate recall at the discretion of the Center.
By checking out materials, you agree to the terms and conditions set forth in this policy.
