Musica Nova presents
Music by Women

Musica Nova is a CWU ensemble committed to the promotion and performance of chamber and solo compositions from the 20th century and 21st century. The title of the ensemble is inspired by the Latin word for new, nova. When combined with stella, it describes a star not previously known. We hope that this ensemble will add many new stars to our musical atmosphere.

Today’s program celebrates the significant contributions women have made to music ranging from an unknown Czechoslovakian composer in the early 20th century to a composition written by a current CWU composition student earlier this year.
