Reports

SEOI –

2.3% of the students that received the email completed the survey. I am going to consolidate the information so we can build of this information next year. We are going to get those into an easy read format and have those ready for next year.

Constitution/By-Laws –

We are trying to add a senator spot for graduate student representation. We have started looking into. It needs to be approved by SAS and Probity for it to go through.

Chair Report

Got the letter written up for the online classes. It is a long process. And the provosts would like to express her thanks about the four year schedule and helping get that out.

Biology –

Biology is going to the wild life safari in Oregon, Winston. We will be spending the second day 9am-5pm. We are going to stay in Eugene, Oregon. It is a drive through safari. There is a set of rules that zoos and aquariums have to follow and we get to interact with these people. This safari has a world renowned cheetah breeding program. This facility is devoted in wildlife conservation and public education of these animals. Admission is $18 a person. After we can have wildlife interaction after the driving safari and can interact with the handlers and have possible internship opportunities. There are several breeding programs at this wildlife conservation and producing very successful results. There are many species that are native to the northwest region. We have many conservation biologists going with us on this trip giving us a lot of education material and ways we can help this conservation. This safari is also a research site for practicing biologists.

Music –

CWU horn club will be going to the international symposium of horn players. There are ten students going. It gives our members a chance to prepare scores to perform to large crowds and to be judge and participate in a competition against other large ensembles. We will also be attending lectures and concerts by LA philharmonic. This trip will be around $10500. We are asking club senate $2000. We were granted $1500 from the undergrad fellowship. We hope for $1500 from SAS and the rest to be located by the Music department.

Psychology –

Went to WPA psychology conference in Las Vegas. Saw Philips and Barto. Vegas was a good experience for the entire club.

Issues and Concerns

Senators, please find replacements. We would like to have all current positions filled and all vacant positions filled by the end of next year. All current senators have to resubmit an application for next year.
