Announcements

Scholarship Night is happening on October 1st, 2015. The previous Scholarship Night was right before the GSA closed and was bad timing. This year we have changed the date so that Scholarship Night will take place on the day the GSA opens so students will have more time to complete it. Hauke reads the blurb from the First Six Weeks pamphlet. Students will also be able to have their resumes looked at by the writing center and Alumni Relations will be there.

Chair Reports

Hauke

We have been trying to get D St. renamed to Wildcat Way. The name change was $4300. The illuminated street sign and labor constituted a majority of the cost. We needed another $350 to expedite the process. Cashmere Valley Bank donated the cost to expedite the renaming, $350. It is a good way to start off homecoming week.

Also we are looking at doing something for veterans on campus, such as a memorial, because of the new program with JBLM. We do not have anything started yet but plan on this being a yearlong project.

Carolyn Thurston

Introduction: I was the founder at the student and transaction research program, a federally funded program. I now work as Director of Academic Success Initiatives in the Office of the Dean of Student Success. I work with students with high risk factors beyond their control. This program mirrors an attentive advising program. I was given the opportunity to accept a new position. In this new position I will be working on the Early Alert program. I will be working with students in academic "hot water." I have taught mediation classes in the Law and Justice department here on campus as well throughout the community.

New Business

Explanations for executive board placements, absences for SAS senators, and recruiting more SAS senators.

Report Backs

Music

We went to the horn symposium in Los Angeles. We prepared the entire week for a large concert and pieces to compete with. Though none of our groups from Central won we got a lot of positive criticism and feedback. Also we are hosting our own horn symposium this next year and attending a professional horn symposium has given us a lot of good insight and ideas.

Music

Adam D. I went to Canada to a music academy. There was about eighty musicians from around the world that attended this academy and was conducted by the conductor from the Moscow Symphony. I got to work with a lot of professionals and academic sources at the event.

Management

Not present.

Old Business

No old business.

Issues and Concerns

About Executive Board members. We need more SAS senators to appoint Executive Board members.

Adjourn
